

Positioning Frontal Guides

In this step, you'll use the frontal guides you just assembled to find the one that looks best on you.

If you need to re-create your front hairline with your hair system, an age-appropriate hairline shape (with recession) helps make your hair system look natural and undetectable. If you have a usable front hairline, you'll choose the shape that blends best behind it.

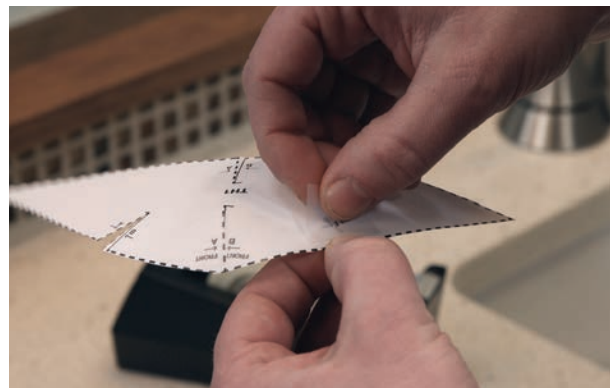

If you feel unsure about which frontal guide to choose, don't worry. It can be changed later, during your consultation. If you have any questions or concerns, or would like a second opinion, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Supplies

Your printed frontal guides

Before you begin

Cut out and prepare your frontal guides.

If you have no front hairline, or plan to shave it off, find and mark the center point for your front hairline.

Step 1: Align the frontal guide in the proper position

If you have no front hairline, follow these instructions:

Place the frontal guide on your head and align the front center edge with the mark you made on your forehead.

If you plan to use your growing front hairline, follow these instructions:

The shape of the frontal guide should match the shape of your hair loss pattern behind your front hairline, or the area you plan to shave. Center the guide behind your hairline, in line with your nose. We recommend you place the guide no closer than 1/4 inch (0.6 cm) and no further than 1 inch (2.5 cm) behind your front hairline, depending on where it begins to thin. When positioning the frontal guide, there should be no gap between the front edge of the guide and where you plan to place the front edge of your hair system. This will allow for the best blending.

Step 2: Try on each frontal guide

Follow the Step 1 procedure with each frontal guide to compare the shapes and see which one you like best. When you make your choice, take note of the of the frontal guide ID shown on the frontal guide itself (i.e. TH5, FC3, etc.).

Return to Gather. Go to the Menu under Frontal Guides and choose Make Selection. Select your chosen frontal guide from the dropdown menu.